Albert Menashe is CEO of the Intracom IT Services Denmark, one of the Intracom IT Service Group's three centres of excellence for customs solutions.

In his capacity as head of the Compliance Solutions Division of Intracom IT Services (former WM-data) Albert was primarily responsible for business development in relation to the company's global Compliance and Enforcement initiative under the banner of ESKORT to the World. In this role Albert was responsible for taking ESKORT (which was initially developed as a VAT audit solution for Danish Customs and Tax) from being a purely Danish system to being a globally recognized solution leveraged on a global partner network and covering all the main compliance and enforcement needs of a tax or customs authority.

Since the takeover by Intracom one of Albert Menashe's missions has been to work with the other parts of Intracom IT Services involved in customs to put Intracom at the forefront of the international customs solutions business by forging a complete and palette of products and services for the post 2001 customs administration. And following a recent reorganization designed to increase the group's focus on strategic business initiatives, Albert Menashe now jointly heads up the group's tax and customs business.

With almost 20 years experience of implementing solutions in the tax and customs domain, Albert Menashe represents a formidable combination of subject matter expertise and practical experience in the field
