

Jennifer Anastasoff

Jennifer Anastasoff is a co-founder of Fuse Corps and our founding CEO. Ms. Anastasoff has significant experience engaging the corporate sector in pro-bono projects in particular in education. Prior to starting Fuse Corps, Jennifer engaged top corporate professionals in pro-bono projects as well as in education as founding CEO of a teacher recruiting organization and founder of an international corporate service fellowship program. Her prior work includes teaching through Teach for America and serving as an analyst in the California Legislature. She has spoken and presented papers at Harvard University and its Business School and the University of California at Berkeley. She is proud to serve on the Board of the Junior Statesmen Foundation, the Advisory Board of the BizWorld Foundation and on the Silicon Valley Launch Committee of Year Up Bay Area. Jennifer has a Masters in Education Policy from the Harvard Graduate School of Education and in Public Policy from the Harvard Kennedy School of Government, where she received the prestigious Public Service Fellowship. And she has been known to karaoke at least once a year, read voraciously, and laugh often.
