

Stan Carroll

Stan's Oklahoma roots extend back three generations. He is the fourth generation to be born in Oklahoma and he is honored. After having spent some time out of the state as a child, he was happy to return to his roots to graduate high school and attend Oklahoma State University where he received his Bachelor's Degree in Architecture. He also graduated from the University of Oklahoma with an architecture degree, just to be equally impartial. After practicing traditional architecture for over eighteen years, Stan began to extend his creativity and art towards sculpture, mainly using metal as his medium. For the past three years, he has been able to explore and create his art full time with his firm, Beyond Metal. Stan often finds inspiration for his designs in the natural beauty and rich history of this state. Currently he lives in Oklahoma City with his wife, Lori, and their five sons.
