

Inganji

Inganji is a group of Rwandan students at Oklahoma Christian University that represents the Rwandan culture through dance. From about a decade ago, Oklahoma Christian now counts about 80 of the top students from Rwanda in fields like Engineering and Business. Inganji organizes fundraising events for the different actions that aim to give back to the home country. One of the big ones is the Rwanda Night that takes place every Spring semester on the Oklahoma Christian campus.