

Wendy Liscow

Wendy Liscow is the Education Program Officer at the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation and a founder of Creative New Jersey. The foundation is a lead funder and partner in the New Jersey Recovery Fund which was established post-Hurricane Sandy to support long-term recovery efforts and ensure a more resilient New Jersey. Wendy came to philanthropy after pursuing her interests in environmental studies, education, and ultimately a long career in the nonprofit sector as a theatre administrator, producer, dramaturg and director.
