What happened at the 2016 Community Roadshows:

130+ Senior attendees from over 60 unique healthcare organizations attended our 2016 community roadshows. Read the full article at https://missasiapac.org/media/thematicreports

"The HIMSS Manila roadshow was a great prelude to the Bangkok conference. It was an intimate gathering that emphasised the necessity and great potential for cooperation and sharing in the AsiaPac Health Informatics sphere"

Dr. Juan Antonio Javellana, MD., Medical Informatics, Asian Hospital and Medical Center, Philippines "The HIMSS Bangkok roadshow clearly reflected HIMSS's position as a thought leader in the domain of healthcare IT. As a local stakeholder, I gained much insight into what leading hospitals in the region are doing and as a technology provider, Medicomp networked with many senior stakeholders."

Piyanun Yenjit, Operation Director Medicomp Systems,Thailand "I have been in the field of health informatics for more than 30 years. With the current state of technologies and the emergence of innovations to help patients manage their care better, I'm feeling excited all over again!"

Dr. Jai Mohan, Professor of Health Informatics & Paediatrics, International Medical University, Malaysia "The HIMSS Bangkok roadshow gave me ideas to integrate digital technologies into patient-centered approaches. Shared experiences from top healthcare leaders in the region is very useful to learn how they achieve advanced digital & patient-centered care."

Dr. Narinthorn Surasinthorn, Assistant Hospital Director, Samitivej Sukhumvit Hospital,Thailand

Population Health Collaborative Care CONFERENCE THEME Data and Technology

HMSS Asia Pac 17 TEAM-BASED CARE: Unifying Patients and Providers

Evidence-Based Care

11 - 14 September 2017, Marina Bay Sands, Singapore

Team-based care is the antidote to fragmented health care. It brings multidisciplinary healthcare providers together, working collaboratively alongside patients and caregivers to achieve optimal outcomes and care experiences.

Coupling team-based care with information technology and advanced analytics maturity, the needs of our patient population throughout the continuum of care can then be sustainably enhanced.

At HIMSS AsiaPac17 in Singapore, expect to learn, share and discuss insights on team-based care that will benefit your patients, care team and organization both clinically and operationally.

CONFERENCE TOPICS:

Population Health

Health information technology at present has gone beyond just managing a patient's medical records and improving the quality of care - it is now the enabler for population health management. Through a team-based care approach, both patients and multidisciplinary providers will be further empowered to build a healthier community together.

Collaborative Care

As the future of healthcare shapes into one with multiple care models to provide the right care to the right patient in the right setting, the seamless exchange of information and amongst the care team and patients are key to the successful delivery of collaborative care.

To Data and Technology

The reach of technological innovation and data has exponentially, grown received and delivered. New technology and innovations are necessary communication to keep up with the increasing demands of both patients and providers. Together with data, healthcare technologies are bound to make a break through, empowering care teams to achieve even better outcomes and care experiences.

Y Evidence-Based Care

With the rapid growth of data and increased connectivity, based evidence impacting the way care is is gradually becoming expected of providers when it comes to making clinical decisions. Current best evidence and data will enable healthcare providers to offer the highest quality of care, by making a collective clinical decision as a team, taking into consideration all of a patient's concerns and ailments.

HIMSS ASIA PACIFIC MEMBERS SPEAK

"New Zealand has a fast growing and vibrant digital health community. We see this collaboration between HiNZ and HIMSS as a key step in building stronger networks between our members and the international experts in digital health."

Kim Mundell, Chief Executive, Health Informatics New Zealand (HiNZ) "Bumrungrad International strongly advocates the use of healthcare information technology to improve the lives of our patients from around the world. As an Organizational Affiliate of HIMSS Asia Pacific, we stand together with HIMSS in providing leadership for Thailand and the region."

Dr. James Miser, CMIO, Bumrungrad International

"HIMSS membership has given us access to exclusive opportunities to further our knowledge of healthcare systems and technology. We believe this partnership helps us advance the use of information technology in our hospital, to help us deliver the best care for patients and caregivers, and benefit our staff as well."

Dr. Goh Min Liong, CMIO, Changi General Hospital, Singapore "Our collaboration with HIMSS Asia Pacific has enabled us to touch base regularly with stakeholders in the Asia Pacific region, and has helped us to directly connect with them to advise on solutions and HIT plans."

Dianne Gruneklee Regional Marketing Manager - APAC Hyland, creator of OnBase ®

"Paknampo hospital is the first in Thailand to achieve HIMSS Analytics EMRAM Stage 6 on its Clinical Transformation roadmap. HIMSS played a significant role in supporting this transformation, and we are proud to continue our collaboration as an organizational affiliate."

Asst. Prof. Korpong Rookkapan, MD Hospital Director Paknampo Hospital

"In 2014, the Asian Hospital and Medical Center was searching for a roadmap that we can follow on our journey to adopt electronic medical records. We came to learn about HIMSS Asia Pacific and the EMRAM and we were convinced that this was the benchmark we wanted. Through these two years of partnership, the EMRAM has given us a structured path to approach the digitalization of our healthcare system. HIMSS has also been a great place to meet the people who will help and guide us to our digital goals."

Dr. Juan Antonio Javellana, MD, Director, Medical Informatics, Asian Hospital and Medical Center
