Working with our Convention Bureau or Convention Centre partners, it is not uncommon for bids to have letters of support from major corporations, past hosts or other international associations who are willing to support the conference. GIDN has staff across 16 countries, in three research and business development teams, who support our clients with bids, grants and tenders. Our current conversion rate is 83%. ## 12. Rare and precious gemstone from Tanzania

Estimated Value: 3600

Starting Bid: 1000

Bid Increment: 50

Description: Tanzanite is a rare and precious gemstone with only a single known source in Tanzania, East Africa. It was formed over 585 million years ago during the Pan-African event, when the continents collided, yet it was only discovered by a Maasai in 1967. From deep in the foothills of Mount Kilimanjaro in Arusha, Tanzania comes tanzanite, one of the most intriguing and desirable precious gemstones of modern times. Exceptionally brilliant, tanzanite is unique among gemstones for its multi-dimensional color, radiating a dazzling kaleidoscope of royal Blue, violet, indigo, lilac and periwinkle. 1000 times rarer than diamonds, tanzanite has enchanted discerning jewelry buyers seeking rarity and distinction. Yet it is also a gemstone with a unique heritage, with multi-layered depths, with meaning, capturing the imaginations of today's consumers as they focus more and more on the history of gemstones, their symbolism, and their inner life of soul. Tanzanite's heritage is a story underpinned by an age-old Maasai affinity with color Blue, regarded as sacred, healing and above all representative of new life. Modern Maasai legend has turned tanzanite into the gemstone celebrating the gift of birth and new beginnings. With a new universal conscience moving ethical considerations to the forefront of consumer's minds, partners in the tanzanite industry are leading the world in ethical mining and fair trade initiatives.

Description: The Original Sacher-Torte has been the most famous cake in the world since 1832 and the original recipe remains a well-kept secret of our hotel. Only the Original Sacher-Torte is produced according to this original recipe. The basis of the entire confection is a chocolate cake, thinly coated by hand with best-quality apricot jam. The chocolate icing on top of it is the crowning glory. It tastes best with a portion of unsweetened whipped cream. The cake will be shipped to the lucky bidder's home or work address after the ICCA Congress.

61. The Phaistos Disk

Bid Increment: 10

ARTION
conferences & events •

Description: This most famous example of Minoan pictographic script, unique in its kind, was discovered inside a small room of the Phaistos palace. It dates to the early Neopalatial period and is preserved intact. Both sides of the disc have signs impressed in a single spiraling line beginning at the edge and ending in the centre. The inscription uses forty-five different signs, which are repeated and grouped together to form words separated by vertical incisions. The signs were impressed on the unbaked clay using seals and for this reason the disc is considered as the earliest known example of typography. Until now several different interpretations of the text have been suggested, none of which is entirely convincing. Modern scholars believe it to be a religious text or hymn. It is noteworthy that several signs of this inscription appear on an axe from Arkalochori. The Disk comes on a high-quality plexiglass base along with authenticity certificates from the Hellenic Ministry of Culture and the Heraklion Archaeological Museum.

70. WAYANG GOLEK

Estimated Value: 50

Starting Bid: 15

Bid Increment: 10

Description: Wayang is a generic term denoting traditional theatre in Indonesia. There is no evidence that wayang existed before Hinduism was brought to Southeast Asia from India around the first century CE. This leads to the hypothesis that the art was imported from India or China, both of which have a long tradition of shadow puppetry and theatre in general. However, there very well may have been indigenous storytelling traditions that had a profound impact on the development of the traditional puppet theatre. Wayang Golek are wooden doll puppets that are operated from below by rods connected to the hands and a central control rod that runs through the body to the head. The simple construction of the puppets belies their versatility, expressiveness and aptitude for imitating human dance. Today, wayang also known in Central Java as Wayang Menak, originated from Kudus Central Java.
