Supporters

We thank the following supporters for their financial contributions to the ACPEL 2017 Conference.

The next International Conference on Advance Care Planning and End of Life Care (ACPEL) is scheduled for the year 2019.

All participants of the 6th ACPEL Conference in Banff will be informed by email when more details are available.

Welcome from the Conference Chair

Dear Colleagues

Welcome to the 6th International Conference on Advance Care Planning and End of Life Care (ACPEL) in Banff, Canada! I along with other members of the conference committees are delighted to host this global conference for the first time in Canada.

Advance care planning (ACP) is the process of discussing and documenting the wishes, preferences, and values a person has about his/her medical care for the future, when health may deteriorate. ACP encourages dialogue between a person, his/her family, and the health care team that can guide medical decision-making even when a person becomes incapable of consenting to or refusing healthcare.

The theme of this year's conference is Conversations Matter. Identifying barriers and facilitators to effective, ongoing conversations is an important focus for the research and clinical communities. Evaluating the quality of programs and their constituent elements is important to the administrators, clinicians and educators. Examining the ethical, economic and social implications of Advance Care Planning legislation, policies and procedures will ensure sustained progress and improve the lives of all Canadians.

The conference continues to attract participants from all over the world. Over 220 abstracts were submitted from many difference disciplines and areas of health care. These submissions have resulted in an engaging scientific program that will be of great interest to you.

I hope that you will enjoy what promises to be a stimulating professional and educational event and that interactions with colleagues from many different countries will inspire a creative exchange of ideas and networking opportunities.

I also trust that you will enjoy your visit to the very beautiful and exciting town of Banff in the Canadian Rocky Mountains.

I look forward to your participation in the ACPEL conference and to greeting you in Banff.

Yours sincerely,

Karen Macmillan

Chair, Local Organizing Committee

Senior Operating Officer, Acute Services, Grey Nuns Community Hospital

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

After attending the conference, delegates will be able to:

- Identify patient, family, and health care practitioner barriers to conversations about advance care planning (ACP) and end of life care
- Explain the importance of advance care planning and end of life care to patients and family members
- Employ tactics for implementing and improving communication about ACP within their practice
- Evaluate strategies for the implementation of advance care planning and end of life care programs in a variety of health care settings
- Describe key legal and ethical issues surrounding advance care planning
- Advocate for universal access to quality advance care planning
- Exemplify the role of advocate for the provision of physical, psycho-emotional and spiritual care in the context of ACP and end of life care
