

FIND US ON
globalgreentag
.com

associated with
GREEN TAG
CERTIFIED

trust brands

Scan this code for more information

"Green isn't just a colour... it is the future"

CASE STUDY

A PLACE TO LIVE APARTMENTS @ VICTORIA GARDEN

YEAR OF COMPLETION March 2016
ARCHITECT SJB Architecture
BUILDER Hamilton Merino
PRODUCTS Biowood Shiplap Soffits & Facades
WPO15018 Spotted Gum Sanded Finish

Biowood Solution

The final release in Richmond's highly successful A place to live precinct makes a strong architectural statement for Biowood on the corner of Burnley and Victoria Streets, opposite the famous 'Little Audrey' Skipping Girl Vinegar sign. Designed by SJB, built by Hamilton Merino, the building's curvilinear forms create a graceful and distinct silhouette. Flowing external ribs partner with Biowood architectural shiplap low maintenance facades and glass to frame private open spaces, connecting the tranquillity of the Yarra River and William Reserve parklands with Richmond's bustling streetscape. A place to live appears to float above the ground. The fluidity of the building's form, its contrasting façades and transparent entrance level actively engage passers-by. The dynamic, striking design of A place to live makes it a timeless addition to the vibrant skyline of inner Melbourne.

Green Resources Material Australia Pty Ltd

biowoodaustralia.com.au | +61 2 9644 6766

Biowood
Sustainably Reconstituted Timber

"Green isn't just a colour... it is the future"

Winning Features

- Retaining the natural aesthetic timber look and feel
- Lightweight and durable
- Fire retardant - non flammable and self-extinguishing
- Water and termite resistant
- Mould and mildew resistant
- No splinters, cracks, warping, cupping or rot
- Proven time tested for commercial and residential application in Australia
- Easy and concealed installation
- Virtually low maintenance
- Sustainable timber alternative

FIND US ON
globalgreentag.com

trust brands

Scan this code for
more information

Green Resources Material Australia Pty Ltd

biowoodaustralia.com.au | +61 2 9644 6766