A woman wearing a wide-brimmed hat, a white long-sleeved shirt, a brown apron, and blue gloves is harvesting green tomatoes in a field. She is carrying a large white sack filled with harvested tomatoes on her back. The background shows a vast field of green tomato plants under a clear sky.

Danper is an agro industrial company, worldwide leader in the food processing industry. We are a joint venture of Danish and Peruvian capital with more than 23 years of experience.

Currently, we have nearly 7000 cultivated hectares and employ more than 6500 people. We have well-trained and permanently motivated human capital, whose constant training allows them to excel in their jobs in order to offer products of proven food safety and quality to global market. We are competitively diversified with nine facilities of canned, fresh, frozen products and super Andean grains.
