EUROPEAN TELEMEDICINE CONFERENCE

7-8 October 2014

Following the success of the first annual European Telemedicine Conference (ETC) in Edinburgh, HIMSS Europe and our partners are now pleased to announce the second edition of ETC in 2014.

The European Telemedicine Conference 2014 will be hosted in Italy and will combine the efforts of several leading European Healthcare Organisations into one powerful event. The conference will collaborate with prominent healthcare delivery organisations, governmental leaders, clinicians, researchers and university faculties to address and discuss the following:

- How telemedicine is working to improve healthcare
- Evaluate applications of telemedicine and telecare
- Assess the sustainability of services
- Learn how research will be translated into real improvements in the delivery of health and care
- Understand what infrastructure is needed to enable cost-effective telehealth and telecare delivery
