

WHAT IS APHILION SIF?

- Aphilion SIF is an investment fund, a SICAV (open ended fund) registered in Luxembourg, and authorized as an internally managed AIF under the 2013 Act.
- This equity fund maintains both a long (by buying stocks) and short (by shorting stocks) portfolio, 70-100 stocks at each side, mainly in Europe. Both portfolios are highly inversely correlated, making the fund as market neutral as possible. That this is effectively achieved can be derived from the fund's beta vs. the European equity market, calculated below.
- The stock selection process is based on an in-house financial-econometric quantitative model, using fundamental data (earnings, interest rates, etc) to evaluate the return-potential of the investment universe on a daily, real-time basis. This model has also been applied in the long-only global equity fund Aphilion Q² Equities since 2001, with equally good results.
- Average gross exposure is between 400% and 500%, but varies with the volatility of the positions at any given time (the more volatile a stock, the smaller its position in the fund).
