Australasian Society for Intellectual Disability (ASID) 47th Annual Conference 2012

Wednesday 7 to Friday 9 November 2012

Wellington, New Zealand

Welcome

Tēnā koutou katoa Dear colleagues and friends

On behalf of the ASID Board and the conference's organising committee, I am pleased to invite you to support and participate in the 47th Annual conference for ASID (Australasian Society for Intellectual Disability: Research to Practice).

The Conference is to be held from Wednesday

7 to Friday 9 November, 2012 in Wellington Town Hall, 111 Wakefield Street, Wellington. Workshops will also be available for participants on the day prior to the conference on Tuesday 6 November. Full conference details can be found online at www.asid-2012.org.nz.

This conference is hosted each year by a different region of Australia and New Zealand. In 2012, NZ thus has a rare opportunity to host this event. It is the premier platform across Australasia for academics, researchers, policy makers, providers and people with intellectual disability to hear about and share current evidence-based research, about ways to best support people with disabilities and their families to have great lives within their communities.

We would like you to consider being part of this conference and the enclosed material suggests a range of ways you can be involved.

The theme of the conference is "Unity in Diversity: different perspectives, common purpose." Our theme acknowledges :

- The rich diversity of perspectives that contribute to our shared knowledge base – philosophies and values, cultural diversity related to ethnicity, place in the lifespan, gender, as well as different consumer perspectives
- A desire across Australasia to move from splintered and uncoordinated support frameworks to a more integrated approach to individuals, family and social groups, and communities.

We look forward to ASID 2012: Unity in Diversity as a key event in the conference calendar in 2012, and know it will attract world-class contributors and participants eager to hear and see how they can assist in the achievement of our common purpose – great lives for people with disability in strong communities.

We look forward greatly to your participation in ASID 2012.

Nāku noa, nā Yours sincerely

Sharon Brandford Conference Chair (on behalf of conference organising committee)

Your involvement

We are pleased to offer you the opportunity to participate as a conference sponsor or trade exhibitor or both.

We are planning for an attendance of 300-400 and all estimates of likely activity costs are based on this range. We have structured sponsorship opportunities to enable you to receive the maximum possible exposure and benefit from your sponsorship.

You may purchase from the organising committee, for a specified amount, the rights to a specific activity or event if you wish. You can elect to meet the full cost or you may agree to meet costs to a defined value. Naturally, if you wish to provide additional features above those set by the organising committee, you are free to do so at your cost.

In addition to your sponsorship of the specified event or activity, all sponsors will be acknowledged in the conference promotional materials (if registered prior to their publication) at the venue and throughout the conference.

Major sponsors have high profile acknowledgement. If you are interested in being a major sponsor, please contact the conference organiser, Luke Paardekooper, at luke@paardekooper.co.nz or telephone +64 4 562 8259. We are happy to discuss other sponsorship options if those outlined do not fit your needs.

Once you have decided on your involvement, please contact the conference organiser to arrange your requirements and make your bookings. It would be great to have you on board for the ASID 47th Annual Conference 2012.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sponsorship Benefits

Programme

The conference will include a set of inspiring and respected keynote speakers from Australasia and beyond, whose work reflects their diverse research interests and commitment within the field of intellectual disability. This will cover such themes as parenting and wellbeing, forensic, mental and physical health issues of people with developmental disabilities, and strengthening communities and families of diverse interests.

Contributions from a large number of presentations from researchers, practitioners, consumers and commentators will add to the debate engendered by our keynote speakers, making for an enriching event. Coming together in the spirit of learning and debate, participants will leave stimulated and with a better understanding of others' perspectives.

Venue

The conference will be held the Wellington Town Hall, 111 Wakefield St, Wellington, New Zealand
