Some of the furnitures came from the farm in Africa, including Denys Finch Hatton's favorite chair and the chest that Karen Blixen's steward, Farah, gave her. Christiania has more than thirty years of history with long and tangled battles, victories and defeats. Christiania covers an area of more than 85 acres and houses, almost one thousand inhabitants, but every year, more than a million people visit the Freetown. Some of them use Christiania almost every day, others pay a quick visit to the village in the middle of Copenhagen. Christiania is thus one of the greatest tourist attractions in Copenhagen, and abroad it is a well-known “brand” for the progressive and liberated Danish lifestyle. Many Danish businesses and organizations also use Christiania as a show place for their foreign friends and guests. The purpose is to show something Danish that cannot be found anywhere else in the world. People from far and near are still attracted by the Freetown's magic mixture of anarchy and love.

At the end of the tour, you will meet a homeless (guide), he or she will take you through some of Copenhagen and tell about how it is being homeless in Copenhagen, where do they sleep, and what do they do during the day in Copenhagen.
