

Morgan R. Landers, AICP is a Senior Urban Planner with EFG Brownfield Partners, a development and management consulting firm specializing in the acquisition, master planning, entitlement, and redevelopment of urban infill and environmentally impaired real estate. Miss Landers joined Brownfield Partners in June 2008 as a Summer Associate while finishing graduate school, and began full time employment in September 2008. Miss. Landers' primary responsibilities include community outreach, market research, site planning, development concepts, and program planning. Additionally, Miss Landers supports Brownfield Partners in due diligence for land acquisitions and conducts primary and secondary research in support of consulting services projects. Prior to joining Brownfield Partners, Miss Landers was a Community Planner for a local non-profit in Denver, Colorado and worked as Project Coordinator for a real estate development firm. Miss Landers is a member of both the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties (NAIOP) and the American Planning Association (APA).