Course Objectives

- Understand how to respond to several common gastroenterological concerns frequently seen in family and general practice;
- Provide a summary of recent developments in gastroenterology and articulate how those updates in treatment and diagnosis affect clinical practice in the primary care setting;
- Explain when to refer common gastroenterological problems to a specialist versus when those concerns can be addressed in the primary care setting;
- Examine a number of case studies dealing with common GI issues and provide a suggested course of practice based on the information provided in Course sessions;
- Network and interact with colleagues and experts in the field in order to discuss common and often complex gastroenterological problems.
