

35th Annual Workplace Health & Safety Conference

Employers: Why you and your employees should attend

We have listed our top 5 reasons why you and your employees should attend this year's 35th Annual Workplace Health & Safety Conference.

- 1. Education: The key part of our Workplace Health and Safety Conference is the return investment that our delegates and exhibitors benefit from. Each session is specifically targeted to Workplace Health & Safety and is designed to be educational for all. We guarantee that your employees will gain new knowledge that will help make your organization a safer workplace.
- 2. Networking opportunities: Delegates from various organizations in health & safety sectors come together to discuss experiences, educate, and make valuable contacts. There are over 30 sessions, workshops, and three tours specifically chosen to meet the needs of the delegation.
- 3. Encourage and Motivate Employees: Help motivate employees who are enthusiastic about their role in health & workplace safety, by exposing them to additional resources. Learn from the top safety leading professionals, about their experiences, presentations by local organizations on their successes, and why workplace safety is everyone's responsibility.
- 4. Gather Useful Information: With an exhibit hall full of 60 exhibitors, you can collect everything you need from the latest materials, brochures, research and more.
- 5. Early Bird Registration: Early-bird registration ends March 1. By registering now, you can save your organization money on conference registration fees. For full Conference, Members pay $625 before March 1 and $725 after March 1. Non Members pay $725 before March 1 and $825 after March 1. Don't miss out on early registration!

We hope to see you April 10-11 at our 35th Annual Workplace Health & Safety Conference!
