To our SAG-AFTRA Brothers and Sisters:

The California Labor Federation welcomes all members of the new SAG-AFTRA to Los Angeles for this historic first convention. The entire labor movement is proud to support you at this convention and throughout the year.

The entertainment industry is a huge driver of the economy not just in Southern California, but across the state. It brings billions of dollars every year into our communities, supporting families and good middle-class jobs. The California Labor Federation is a full partner with you to ensure that the entertainment industry in California thrives. We're fighting for film tax credits that will keep the productions here and bring more good jobs to California. Your work is central to the California dream, and we're proud to support your efforts in the legislature to expand.

The television and film industry is one of the most unionized industries in America. When SAG and AFTRA joined together, you created a stronger union. You're building power through solidarity. And we couldn't be prouder to support you.

On behalf of the 2.1 million members of the California Labor Federation, welcome to your convention. We're thrilled to have each and every one of you as part of our movement. Have a great time this week, and remember, together, we're always stronger.

In solidarity,

Art Pulaski
Executive Secretary-Treasurer
